Each product we feature has been independently selected and reviewed by our editorial team. If you make a purchase using the links included, we may earn commission. If you don't have the complete Harry Potter series in your movie collection, now's the time to make the addition. It's Halloween week, and post spooky-season, we will start to slip into Thanksgiving and all the festive winter holidays. And the magic of the Harry Potter franchise is fitting for that time of year. All the wizards, unearthly creatures, and ominous battles make it perfect to watch as you snuggle up with a pumpkin spice latte and celebrate Halloween, while the themes of friendship and belonging paired with enchanted visuals make it fitting for Thanksgiving and the holiday season. (What better way to ring in Christmas than with Hogwarts' Yule Ball?). Best of all, right now you can buy all eight of the Harry Potter movies for $79 on Amazon Prime Video — that means each movie will cost you less than $10 to stream. Buy It! Harry Potter 8-Film Collection, $78.99; amazon.com The $79 Harry Potter 8-Film Collection includes all eight films in the franchise: The Sorcerer's Stone, The Chamber of Secrets, The Prisoner of Azkaban, The Goblet of Fire, The Order of the Phoenix, The Half-Blood Prince, and both parts of The Deathly Hallows. Whether you want to relive your introduction to Sirius Black, witness the events of the Triwizard Tournament, experience the burgeoning nostalgia that comes with watching the first-ever film, or re-experience the epic finale, this collection has you covered. This movie bundle is a streaming deal, so you won't receive a hard copy of the movies. If you're someone who prefers a tangible version of your favorite films, Amazon also offers the complete Harry Potter series in DVD, Blu-ray, and 4K Ultra HD formats. However, opting for the streamable version has the benefit of being easy to watch on the go and on different devices. Are you going to be sitting on a train for hours as you travel to visit family for Thanksgiving or Christmas? Or will you be jet-setting to take a holiday vacation? When you buy the streamable version of these Harry Potter movies, you can easily log into your Amazon account from your phone, laptop, or tablet to keep yourself entertained with a movie, and you won't have to tote around DVD cases or extra equipment to play the discs on devices without DVD players. And if you're looking to stay entertained throughout the holidays with a wide selection of streamable movies and television shows, new and old alike and beyond the Harry Potter series, you may want to consider signing up for a Prime Video membership. But even if you just want to say "Leviola" along with Hermione again and again, we won't judge. Sign Up! Prime Video membership, $8.99 per month after a 30-day free trial; amazon.com Click here for a summary of this article How to Watch Harry Potter on Netflix: a Quick Step-By-Step PlanAll eight Harry Potter movies can be found on Amazon Prime, but only if you live in a specific country. This means that the majority of global Prime subscribers won't be able to access the movies due to differences in distribution rights.Luckily, you can still follow Harry, Hermione, and Ron's adventures on Prime no matter where you are in the world, if you use a VPN. Here's how you do that:Get a VPN subscription. We recommend ExpressVPN (which comes with a 30 day money-back guarantee).Download the VPN app of your choice on your smartphone or computer.Select a VPN server in Spain, Portugal, or the US. In these countries, Harry Potter is available via Prime.Connect to the VPN server of your choice. Your internet traffic will now be rerouted through the country you picked.Launch Amazon Prime and you'll see that the Harry Potter movies are available for streaming.If you don't have a Prime subscription, you can also watch Harry Potter on a few other platforms. Netflix, Sling TV, HBO Max, and Peacock all have (or will have) access to the full franchise. Read our complete article below to find out how you can watch J.K. Rowling's magical series on any of these streaming services.The Harry Potter movies have been a box office success and fan favorite from the moment Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone first hit theaters back in 2001. It's a classic, and many people like to relive the fantasy of J.K. Rowling's world every now and then.But video rental services aren't around anymore, and buying a DVD bundle off of Amazon might not be everyone's first choice every time they want to watch a movie. So what alternatives do you have? Is Harry Potter available on Netflix? If not, where else can you watch it? We've listed all options for you.Watching Harry Potter OnlineYou can stream and enjoy the Harry Potter series on a lot of platforms (besides Platform 9¾). However, your access to the Harry Potter franchise, or even to the streaming platforms themselves, is limited by your geographical location. The eight movies can usually be found on Netflix, although availability varies. It is currently only available on Netflix Turkey.Amazon Prime, if you live in the USA or parts of Western Europe, like Spain and the Netherlands.HBO Max and Peacock, although availability varies.Sling TV, for US audiences.If you have a subscription to any of these streaming services and live in those regions, you'll very likely be able to watch Harry Potter online without a hitch. If you don't live in the right country, you can use a VPN to change your IP address and make it look like you're surfing the web from a different location. This will allow you to watch the Potter movies, no matter where you live. We'll discuss how this works on each of the different platforms in turn.Watching Harry Potter on NetflixIn the summer of 2020, Harry Potter was available on Netflix for all users across the globe. From Harry Potter and The Sorcerer's Stone all the way up to Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows Part 2, the streaming platform featured all movies from the wizarding world. Unfortunately, Harry Potter isn't available worldwide on Netflix anymore. In fact, we couldn't verify its availability anywhere, save for Turkey and Australia. This means that only people in Turkey and Australia will be able to enjoy the Harry Potter movies on Netflix.Netflix constantly changes its library, adding new titles while removing old ones. Some shows and franchises even appear and disappear from Netflix every couple of months due to the limitations of distribution rights. This probably happened with Harry Potter as well: Netflix wasn't allowed to stream the movies in certain countries anymore, so they had to take them off.However, chances are that the Potter movies will be added to different Netflix libraries across the world at some point down the line. Once they're available in one country, for example Turkey, you might be able to watch them wherever you are with the help of a VPN — as long as that VPN has servers in that country that work with Netflix.How to use a VPN to watch Harry Potter on NetflixA VPN (Virtual Private Network) can reroute your connection through servers from different countries. This will change your IP to make it seem like you're navigating the internet from that country. However, Netflix tries to block VPN users from accessing geographically restricted content, so you need the right tool for the job. Sadly, there are very few VPN providers out there who are able to unblock the Turkish version of Netflix.Generally, the best VPN for watching Harry Potter on Netflix is CyberGhost, since it has reliable servers in Turkey and is known for its great unblocking and streaming capabilities. However, even CyberGhost doesn't guarantee access to Netflix Turkey at this moment, so your best bet might be to watch Harry Potter in a different way — like via Amazon Prime or Sling TV.Would you like to try and watch Harry Potter on Netflix with a VPN? Then follow these steps to unblock Netflix shows with a VPN. Just remember that watching Harry Potter on Netflix is only available with a subscription to their service.Watching Harry Potter on Amazon PrimeThe Harry Potter movies are also available on Amazon Prime, mainly in Western European countries like the Netherlands and Spain. To watch all eight films in the Harry Potter franchise on Prime, you need a subscription.Luckily, if you aren't subscribed yet, you can sign up for a free trial, which gives you 30 days of unrestricted access to Prime content. If you plan it well, this is more than enough for a full Harry Potter movie marathon. If you end up liking Prime, you can always keep your subscription so you'll be able to enjoy it beyond the month of free access.If Prime isn't available in your country or Harry Potter isn't included in your Prime library, you can use a VPN to unblock the right content. To do that, you need to:Choose a VPN that fits your streaming needs and subscribe to their service. We recommend ExpressVPN, as it's best suited for streaming and has reliable, stable connections to change your IP to a US-based one. Click the button below this step-by-step plan to get your ExpressVPN account.Download and install the VPN software. You can find a link on your VPN provider's website. Simply follow the instructions of the installer and open the VPN app once it's been installed.Choose a server in a country where Harry Potter is available on Prime. Servers in the US, the Netherlands, Germany, Spain, and most countries from Western Europe will do the trick.Press connect to establish the VPN connection.Sign in or subscribe to Prime by going to primevideo.com and clicking either "Log in" or "Try for free."Look up the Harry Potter movie you wish to watch and enjoy your magical adventures in the wizarding world! Visit ExpressVPNIf a server you've chosen doesn't work right away, there's no need to panic just yet. Make sure to clear your cookies, then reconnect to the same VPN server location, and try again. Just like with casting a Patronus, it might take a few tries to get your VPN to work. With ExpressVPN, however, the chances of instant success are very high!Harry Potter on Peacock and HBO MaxUpdate: As of September 2021, all Harry Potter movies are back on HBO Max. However, this may change in the future, as explained in the original section below.Peacock and HBO Max are two other streaming services that used to feature the Harry Potter movies. However, at the time of writing, Peacock doesn't give access to the franchise. This is a bummer, especially because Peacock has a free service. Whether Harry, Ron, and Hermione will return to Peacock at some point, isn't entirely clear. But there is hope.According to Vulture, the Harry Potter movies are in a weird legal limbo with distribution rights. As a result, their placement is expected to shift between Peacock and HBO Max until 2025. In other words, it's very likely that the Harry Potter franchise will become available on each platform at some point over the course of the coming years. Until then, however, you'll have to look for the Chosen One on a different streaming service.Harry Potter on Sling TVHarry Potter is also available to watch on Sling TV. Sling is a streaming platform that bundles TV programming from the US in different packages. It's a bit more expensive than most streaming platforms (upwards of $35 a month), but that's because it features a lot of content usually only available on cable. If you just want to watch Harry Potter, you can make use of their special deal of $10 for the first month, which is plenty of time to binge the entire franchise.However, since Sling distributes content from US cable channels, it's only available to people in the US. If you live anywhere else, or you're an American on holiday abroad, you can still access it with the help of a VPN. Here's how you do that:Choose a VPN that helps you change your IP address to one from the US. We recommend ExpressVPN, as its servers in the US are reliable, fast, and fit for streaming. You can easily get your own ExpressVPN subscription by clicking the button below.Download and install the VPN software. The link to download your VPN app should be on your provider's site. From there, follow the instructions of the installer and then open the VPN app.Choose a server in a the US.Press connect to change your IP.Sign in or subscribe to Sling TV by going to sling.com and following the steps. You don't have to worry about different payment methods to access Sling TV, since it accepts credit cards from any country.Look up the Harry Potter movie you wish to watch and embark on a magical adventure! Visit ExpressVPNOne important thing to keep in mind: when you sign up for an account on Sling TV, make sure you choose a package that has either USAHD or Bravo included. These are the only channels that feature Harry Potter on Sling.Best VPN To Watch Harry Potter OnlineThe best VPN to watch Harry Potter online is ExpressVPN. This provider offers dedicated streaming features, which allow you to bypass VPN blocks from streaming platforms like Amazon Prime, Peacock, and HBO Max with ease. ExpressVPN is also one of the most secure VPN services, meaning you'll be able to browse the web safely. Your IP won't be logged and your data won't be leaked. In short, it works like a charm.On top of that, ExpressVPN has Reliable and fast connection speeds.A large variety of servers, so you can watch Harry Potter on almost any platform in any country.Enhanced security, with features like a kill switch, advanced protocols, and a browser extension.ExpressVPN can be a bit pricey, but there are several ways to change this. First of all, the links on our website will automatically give you the best discount on ExpressVPN's services. Aside from that, ExpressVPN has a 30-day money-back guarantee, which can effectively be used as a free trial. For more information on how to take advantage of this deal and use ExpressVPN for free, check out our ExpressVPN free trial article.If you're looking for cheaper alternatives, we can also recommend Surfshark and CyberGhost. These are two other great VPN options that will allow you to witness Harry's adventures at Hogwarts on different streaming services. Just remember that when it comes to Netflix, a lot of VPNs are currently working on a smooth system for accessing different Netflix libraries.Would you rather try one of the many other VPNs out there? You can find accurate and honest reviews on countless providers on our review page.Why You Need A VPN To Watch Harry Potter OnlineIf you want to embark on a magical journey to Hogwarts, Netflix and Amazon Prime currently hold your acceptance letter. However, these platforms aren't allowed to distribute the movie franchise everywhere in the world. For example, if you live in Eastern Europe, neither of these platforms will show Harry Potter movies when you search for them.The availability of Harry Potter on streaming platforms depends on distribution rights. These rights are sold per geographic region, meaning that a streaming service doesn't automatically have the rights to distribute a piece of content worldwide. Sometimes, the service might not buy the distribution rights for a specific region because they don't think enough people will watch that show or movie there. Of course, it's hard to believe this is the case for Harry Potter. Instead, streaming services likely run into other issues: they simply can't buy the rights, since other platforms already own them.This means that, even if you have a Prime or Netflix subscription, you won't always be able to watch Harry Potter. That is, unless you use a VPN (Virtual Private Network). A VPN will change your IP address to make it look like you're browsing from a country where the show is available. This means you'll effectively unblock the show or movie you want to enjoy, for example Harry Potter and the Goblet of Fire.Buying and Renting Harry Potter OnlineStreaming is by far the easiest way to watch a show or movie series online. However, since Harry Potter isn't readily available for everyone on platforms like Netflix and Prime, some people might prefer to buy or rent the show. You can do so on:Simply click the distributor you'd like to buy from, and our links will lead you to the full movie collection bundle on each respective platform. Prices range from $42.99 to $79.99, depending on the platform and the quality of the media.You can also purchase each movie individually through the links provided above. Just scroll down and you'll find a list of the movies, which you can buy for around $15 per movie, or rent for $4 per movie.Harry, Ron, and Hermione's journey to learn spells, tame fantastic beasts, and ultimately fight the Dark Lord is absolutely magical. It spans eight movies and seven Hogwarts school years, and we hope that our options for streaming, or buying the franchise, helped you find the right solution to watch Harry Potter online from anywhere.In case you've never seen Harry Potter before, you can get an idea of the story by watching the trailer of the first movie, Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone (or Philosopher's Stone, if you're not from the US), right here:If you like a challenge and want to have a Harry Potter marathon, you might find it helpful to know that bingeing the entire franchise takes 1178 minutes, or just under 20 hours.If you want to dive deeper in the Wizarding World, you can also check out Fantastic Beasts and Where To Find Them and its sequel, Fantastic Beasts: The Crimes of Grindelwald. This prequel to the Harry Potter franchise is set in the 1920s and follows Newt Scamander as he discovers, befriends, and protects various magical beasts. Soon, however, Newt finds himself in all sorts of international magical trouble. With familiar characters like Dumbledore and Grindelwald making an appearance, the Fantastic Beast movies combine a new story with the magic Potter fans fell in love with all those years ago. They're available to watch on Netflix and HULU.Enjoying Content OnlineIf you end up getting a VPN to watch Harry Potter online, the fun doesn't end there. VPNs won't just allow you to watch J.K. Rowling's masterpieces. They can be used for many other purposes as well. A VPN will be able to unblock countless movies and series that are regionally restricted, for example. If this piques your interest, feel free to have a look at any of these articles:You can also use a VPN to make yourself more anonymous online and protect your personal data from leaks and cybercrime. If you want to find out more about the large variety of benefits that a VPN provides, you can read all about it in our article "What is a VPN".
